

5th National Pharmacovigilance

The Department of Pharmacology celebrated the 5th National Pharmacovigilance Week from 17th to 23rd September 2025 with great enthusiasm. The theme for this year, “Your Safety, Just a Click Away – Report to PvPI,” highlighted the importance of promoting awareness about the safe use of medicines and the timely reporting of adverse drug reactions (ADRs).

The event witnessed active participation from faculty members, postgraduate students (PGs), Physiotherapy, Dental and B.Sc. Nursing students. HODs, faculties, and PGs from other departments also graced the occasion with their presence and support. Various engaging activities such as Poster presentations, Poem and paragraph writing, Slogan writing and skits were organized for the undergraduate students to spread awareness about ADRs. These awareness programs were also conducted in hospital OPDs of clinical departments and college students (community sensitization), ensuring a wider reach among healthcare professionals and the public.

The week-long celebration concluded with a prize distribution ceremony, where winners of the competitions were felicitated. The event successfully fostered awareness about the importance of Pharmacovigilance and encouraged active participation in the reporting of adverse drug reactions.
